

NEW COMMUNITY-MINDED RESTAURANT AND BAR OPENING UPSTAIRS AT THE RIALTO

BOZEMAN, Mont. (April 20, 2024) – A new community-minded restaurant and bar is opening its doors downtown. Located upstairs at the Rialto, gute Laune (German translation: good mood) offers a Bavarian concept in the Bozeman community, featuring Montana bratwursts and German beer.

“The inspiration for gute Laune is reflected in its name: a community gathering place where good food, good drinks, and good friends take center stage,” explains Erik Nelson, director for Nest Partners.

Nest Partners, the team behind the Rialto, the LARK, and Tinworks Art, is curating the gute Laune experience and partnering with Wyatt Nelson from Montana Local Food Distribution, Daniels Gourmet Meats, B Bar Ranch, Pioneer Meats, On the Rise, Bausch Farm Potatoes, Montana Mex Ketchup, MFRG Designs, and others to bring the concept to life.

gute Laune’s full-service bar includes European and Montana beers, cocktails, wine, and non-alcoholic options. “We are excited to have a variety of beers available, including everything from a Praga Pilsner from Czechia to a German Hofbräu Lager, plus a few local Montana favorites,” explains Nelson.

Initial operating hours will be 5 pm to midnight, Wednesday through Sunday. Takeout is available, and the menu will include vegetarian, vegan, and gluten-free options, plus options for kids of all ages.

About gute Laune

gute Laune offers a Bavarian concept in the Bozeman community, featuring Montana bratwursts and German beer. gute Laune is a community gathering place where good food, good drinks, and good friends take center stage.

###